TURKS ACCEPT PEACE PROPOSAL OF POWERS

Ottoman Government Yields to Plan to End Balkan Conflict.

Constantinople, April 2.—The Turkish government Tuesday declared that it unreservedly accepted the terms of peace proposed by the European powers. The foreign office Tuesday handed the Ottoman acceptance to the dean of the diplomatic corps here and expressed the thanks of the nation to the powers for their mediation.

Bulgaria, on Friday last, notified the powers that she would accept the proposed terms of peace, but persisted in her demand for a war indemnity. The fall of Adrianople is considered likely to have some influence on future negotiations. The terms of mediation proposed by the powers are as follows:

The frontier of the Ottoman empire in Europe shall start at Enos, following the course of the Maritza river and that of the Ergene shall end at Midia. All territories situated to the west of this line shall be ceded by Turkey to the allied states with the exception of Albania, the delimitation of which shall be fixed by the powers.

The question of the Aegean islands shall be settled by the powers.

Turkey shall abandon all claim to Crete.

The powers cannot favorably entertain the demand for indemnity, but they will admit the allies to participate in the discussions of the international commission in Paris, for an equitable settlement of their participation of the Ottoman debt and in the financial charges of the districts to be handed over to them. Turkey is to be asked to take part in the labors of this commission.

The great powers declare at the same time that as soon as these bases are accepted hostilities shall cease.

FLOOD WATERS LEAVING STATE

All Streets in Most Towns of Ohio That Were Devastated by Swollen Streams Have Drained Off.

Columbus, O., April 2.—The crest of the flood waters which have sorely afflicted Ohio for a week past have moved beyond the pale of the state's domain. Flood waters in every section of Ohio are now receding.

In most of the cities, towns and villages in central Ohio which were devastated by swollen streams all the streets have drained off and in many of the thoroughfares where relentless currents coursed their way a few days ago, today the wind raised clouds of dust.

Plans of sanitation and reconstruction have been placed in operation in Dayton, Columbus, Zanesville and other central points. This work will be extended daily till it reaches the Ohio river. It is expected that every flooded municipality in Ohio will be drained of its unwelcome waters within the next few days.

PRINCESS ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Woman Who is Well Known in Society Stabs Herself in the Breast With a Silletto.

Rome, April 2.—Said to be suffering from an incurable disease, the Princess Colonna, who occupied a suite of rooms on the same floor in the Grand hotel that the Morgan party is located, made a determined attempt to end her life by stabbing herself in the breast with a silletto. Although the news has just leaked out the attempt was made last Sunday. The princess who is well known in society is now slowly recovering, but is being closely watched, as a second attempt to end her life is feared.

TAFT ASSUMES NEW POSITION

Former President Takes Up His Duties as Kent Professor of Law at Yale University.

New Haven, Conn., April 2.—The nation's student body was drawn up to meet former President Taft Tuesday when he arrived to take up his duties as Kent professor of law at Yale university. After greeting the students Mr. Taft was driven in an automobile to the university grounds, where he was extended a formal welcome by Secretary Stokes, acting for President Hadley, who is out of the city. Mr. Taft appeared in excellent health as a result of his vacation in Augusta, Ga.

THE CALL OF THE PROMPTER.

She Sighed Over the Relics of Footlights and Went Back.

The lady at the fireside laid down the sock she was darning and softly sighed. She was still fair and there were many attractive curves in her mature figure.

Her large and expressive eyes turned toward the mantel with its many ornaments. There she saw herself in various photographic poses. At the right she was Flossie Bloom in "The Single Taxer." At the left she was Toto Bongo in "The Sun God." In the center she was Minerva Van Shinner in "The Earth Worm." A soft pink flush stole across her smooth cheek. There was the souvenir programme of the hundredth performance of "The Glimlet" at the Van Rensselaer. What a night of glorious triumph that was!

On the sewing table was her scrapbook of dramatic notices, discreetly culled.

"Firesides are all right," she murmured, "but oh, you footlights!"

She looked at her rounded arm, she stared down at her dainty foot. A queer pearly smile came to her, a lone violin gave forth a quivering squeak, the misty blend of 1,000 whiffs confronted her.

"Why should I profane my art by darning socks?" she cried.

Then hurling the inoffensive foot-wear into the grate, she went back to the stage.

Indiana Trolleys Carry Grain.

"Indiana has more trolley wires to day than any State in the Union; that is, the cities of the State are more expeditiously connected by trolley than any other section of the country," said J. D. Ferguson of Logansport.

"Our trolley lines are not built merely to carry passengers. Their profit is realized to a great extent from the freight, especially the produce and grain they carry from the country to the cities. And the sections of the State which most of those lines traverse are the prairie and most fertile in America. Directly through the corn belt are railway tracks; through fields of grain of all sorts, truck gardens and large farms, in all probability the rapidly with which garden and farm products can be gleaned from Indiana fields by means of the electric roads will lessen the price of food considerably in Chicago."

Negro Prosperity in North Carolina.

The Suggs block is the name of a new three story business building on East Market street owned and occupied by negroes. On the first floor are a grocery store, a drug store, millinery, a manufactory and a dressmaking establishment and a shoe store. The second floor is composed entirely of offices, in which are five physicians, a dentist, an insurance company and a firm of architects and contractors. On the third floor are two lodge halls, in which twenty-two lodges and civic organizations meet.

This building is said to be the best and most up to date negro business building in this State and is an index to the progress of the negro race of North Carolina, and especially Greensboro.

5,000 Chances for Trouble.

A recent careful count by the makers of a standard type of gasoline car shows that in the motor, including magneto and carburetor, there are 1,508 pieces; in the transmission system 126, in the rear axle 166, in the steering column 155 and so on, forming a total of 4,983 separate parts assembled to co-ordinate and co-operate with one another in producing a healthy automobile.

Furthermore any one of these parts is quite capable of becoming the seat of an automobile disease, which if neglected will result in serious complications requiring the taking down of the mechanism in the machine shop.

A Kansas Musical Note.

Our esteemed fellow citizen, the Hon. Bill Gibbs has received and accepted an offer to found the overland daylighting out of the bass drum with the Harveyville Silver Cornet Band at a celebration at Admire July 4. The Hon. Bill has been practicing with a sledge at one of the blacksmith shops the last week and he believes his arm is down in shape. Jess Reynolds will blow a tuba with the same silver cornet band on the same occasion. With these recruits the Harveyville music makers ought to make a fine showing at Admire.

"The Sisterhood of Bridget," a farce in three acts, will be given by local talent in College Chapel Thursday evening, April 10. Seats reserved at Dickson's store Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ADVANTAGES OF KEEPING BEES.

Their Activity Insures Fertilization of Blossoms and Flowers.

Beekeeping is a valuable aid in the cultivation of fruit and seed crops. Insects which feed on nectar play an important part in the fertilization of flowers. Fertilization is effected in other ways, but the agency of insects is the more certain and efficacious, and no other insect is comparable with the honey bee in this respect. A strong hive contains 10,000 bees in February, 15,000 in March, 40,000 in April, and from 60,000 to 80,000 in May. It has been discovered by skillful observers that the average load of nectar carried to the hive by a bee is about 3-10 of a grain, so that the collection of one pound of nectar requires nearly 23,000 foraging excursions. By means of hives set on balance it has been found that the daily increase of weight in May averages 3.3 pounds. Occasionally more than 11 pounds is gained in one day, and when the amount consumed by the bees and the loss of weight by evaporation are considered, it appears probable that the average daily quantity of nectar collected is not less than 11 pounds, which would load 250,000 bees. As a bee visits ten flowers on the average in collecting a single load some 2,500,000 flowers are visited in one day by the bees of a single hive. An additional large number of visits is required for the collection of pollen. These figures explain why many trees and plants bear small crops in the absence of bees.

Food for Winter.

No colony should be considered safe unless it has stored in the combs at least 25 pounds of honey or syrup and sealed most of it over. The arrangement of this food is a matter of some importance, for if the bees are crowded upon a few frames and fed liberally they will fill every available cell with syrup, and then they will be compelled to cluster during the winter upon sealed combs. Instead of upon empty cells, as is more natural, and having stores above and around. With the movable comb hive the arrangement of the combs for winter is, in the hands of a good bee-keeper, a simple matter; but if feeding is continued up to the middle of September, and the proper amount of food is then given, the bees will arrange it around the brood, which gradually diminishes by the bees hatching, accessible for their comfort and convenience. If the combs are arranged by the bee-keeper, the center ones should have sealed stores about half way down, the amount of stores increasing to the outside of the brood nest. During the winter bees cluster below quite a portion of the stores, therefore by keeping the honey warm, and of easy access the most compact form and normal cluster can be maintained.

Protection for Lifting Combs.

An expert may open a hive without smoke and without danger, and may handle the combs and return them to the hive without getting a single sting by being quiet, steady and fearless. It is a fact that the fearless apiarist may often be entirely unharmed while others a rod away may be stung by the very bees which his manipulations anger. His quiet, determined demeanor is his safeguard, while the uninitiated strikes at the angry bee and dances till he is stung. When you wish to open a hive of bees, if you wish to be perfectly safe arm yourself with a smoker, cover your head with a veil and step boldly to the front of the hive; send smoke through the opening for half a minute, then stop, and repeat the operation after another half minute, or until they make a steady hum, which will show that they have given up the desire to fight. Then open the hive, smoke again gently, and you may lift the combs one after another.
